COPYRIGHT 1971 DC GAZETTE

Single copies: $1
Ten or more: 75¢ each
30 or more: 60¢ each

This is issue number 22, volume II of the DC Gazette, covering the period August 30-September 19 1971. The Gazette is available by mail at $6 a year. It is issued biweekly (24 times a year) except in the summer when publication varies. See special offer on back cover.

Information in the Guide has been gathered from a number of sources. We especially wish to thank those organizations that responded to our questionnaire and also Vocations for Social Change and the Red Pages. We have tried for accuracy. Where we have failed, we apologize and would appreciate receiving corrections for our next edition. It is most convenient for us to receive the information typed on a 3 x 5 card in the format of listings in the Guide.

Please tell your friends about the Guide and about the Gazette. We'll keep on trucking with your help.

We offer counseling to those who feel,
like we do, the immorality of paying taxes to a govt. which spends its tax money on war and war preparations while neglecting human needs here. We attempt to offer communication between those who are refusing the federal telephone tax, the income tax and other war taxes. We are encouraging groups to pool refused tax money into collectively administered funds which go toward what we feel to be the real needs of society. Publish monthly bulletin.

PERCENTAGE CHANGE IN POPULATION: 1960 - 1970

The District of Columbia's population decreased by only one percent between the 1960 and 1970 population censuses. However, there were marked population changes in some areas of the City. In general, the eastern side of Washington gained population while the western side lost it. Similarly, the quadrants to the south of the Capitol building gained population while the two quadrants to the north lost population.

Service Areas 3 and 4, the section east of the Anacostia River, showed the largest population gains. There are now 18% more people east of the River than there were in 1960. Two-thirds of this increase was in Service Area 4, the southernmost.

The largest decreases in population were close to the center of Washington in Service Areas 5, 6, and 7. The Model Cities area, number 6, lost one-fifth of its population and Service Area 5 lost one-sixth.
